To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Orange Peel Productions for future programming.

I was impressed by the company from the moment they approached me by email with their production of The Wolves. Programmed for 7 performances at the Space in March 2023, Orange Peel Productions were excellent communicators and a pleasure to work with. Their marketing efforts were highly effective, achieving significantly larger audiences than other shows in the same season.

The show itself was incredible, making clever use of the venue and gaining enthusiastic praise from all who came to see it. Orange Peel Productions are a talented and exciting company with a bright future ahead of them.

Best Wishes
